

Extractive industries, Civil Society, & Governments

A new way to work for local development

Flavia Milano
Senior Operations Specialist/Citizen Engagement
Vice Presidency for Countries
Inter-American Development Bank

WICONNECT3.IADB.ORG

Mining in Latin America

From conflict to co-operation

Big miners have a better record than their critics claim. But it is up to governments to balance the interests of diggers, locals and the nation

The Economist

AP

SECTOR EXTRACTIVO Y SOCIEDAD CIVIL:

CUANDO EL TRABAJO DE COMUNIDADES, GOBIERNOS E INDUSTRIAS ES SINÓNIMO DE DESARROLLO

A. 3 complex actors
with challenges & opportunities

B. A new way to work

- At design
- At implementation
- At closure

A. 3 ACTORS

1. EXTRACTIVE INDUSTRIES

2. CIVIL SOCIETY

3. NATIONAL & LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

1. EXTRACTIVE INDUSTRIES

CUTTING-EDGE TECHNOLOGY IN THE WORLD'S PERIPHERY

IN COMPLIANCE WITH INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS & ASSOCIATIONS

2.

GOVERNMENTS

WITH SPECIALIZED AGENDAS

COMPLEX COORDINATION AT THE NATIONAL-LOCAL LEVELS

3.

COMMUNITIES &
CIVIL SOCIETY
AT LARGE

DIVERSE

in nature, interests, and sphere of action

PLURALITY OF POSITIONS

regarding the mining sector

B. A NEW WAY TO WORK:

Best engagement practices
among the 3 actors

AT PROJECT DESIGN

CITIZEN PARTICIPATION IN THE ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT
NUEVA UNION MINING PROJECT, CHILE

DURING PROJECT IMPLEMENTATION

PARTICIPATIVE
ENVIRONMENTAL MONITORING
ORCOPAMPA, PERU

AT PROJECT CLOSURE

COMPREHENSIVE CLOSURE PLAN
SAN XAVIER PROJECT, MEXICO

THANK YOU!

